

DIXON MAN HURLED TO DEATH BY ILL. CEN. TRAIN

MISSISSIPPI HOLDING UP FLOOD STAGE

Predicted Rise Fails to Come—Outcome Uncertain

BULLETIN.
 Murphysboro, Ill., April 27.—(AP)—The Mississippi river broke through the South Grand Tower levee shortly before noon today, inundating 7,000 acres of land nearest the town. A few minutes later a report reached Grand Tower that a south wind on the raging river had ripped a long hole in the dike south of Big Muddy river on the Mississippi, thus subjecting nearly 20,000 additional acres to overflow in the McClure districts. The latter break means a disastrous flood in the Union county bottoms. The town of McClure suffered great damage during the 1927 floods.

By Gordon M. SESSIONS.
 Associated Press Staff Writer.
 Quincy, Ill., April 27.—(AP)—Saved by the skin, the Mississippi failed by several inches to reach its predicted stage, the levees protecting 170,000 acres of nearby lowlands constituted an insoluble mystery today. They may go out before night; they may go out next week; and they may not go out at all.

The only thing anyone knew, the only thing also that inspired a sense of security—that the river had apparently reached the crest of its latest attack. The stage increased slowly here during the night and was expected to stop at about 21.6 feet this morning.

Even that is one-tenth of a foot above last Monday's stage, which broke all modern records, but it is almost a foot below what had been predicted by government observers on the basis of heavy rains north of here in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois. Moreover, no heavy rains were promised in the forecast for the week-end, so there was no immediate prospect of another rise. One thing is certain; no drainage section around here will be safe until the Mississippi has dropped below flood stage, which is 14 feet at Quincy.

Nor can the farmers in the bottoms near their troubles as over even if such a drop should occur, because they have yet to face the annual late spring rise, which ordinarily begins about the middle of May or early in June. This is usually the year's big flood period.

The City is High.
 Quincy, meanwhile, is having its regular flood-time smiles at the expense of the out-of-town who do not realize the city's safe location, high on a bluff of the river.

A Milwaukee woman wired to her sister here: "If you can find a way to get out of town, come and stay with us until the flood is over." But Quincy remains high and dry.

LOWER RIVER DRY?
 Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Army engineers believe the $325,000,000 flood control program has progressed to such a stage that there is slight chance of the lower Mississippi River valley being subjected to a devastating flood this year despite the steadily rising waters farther north. Members of congress from the states laid waste in 1927 by flood concur in this view.

On the upper half of the river, a more difficult problem is presented, but the engineers expect an early recession from the present flood level without great additional damage. The levees on the main stream in the lower valley have been rebuilt or strengthened during the first year of the new flood control program, the engineers said, so that it will take higher flood levels than those of 1927 to open crevasses in the protective walls.

Work has not yet been started on the three great floodways and the spillway because of legal proceedings necessary for the government to acquire land needed for the projects, but the crevasses left by the 1927 flood have been repaired and none of the levels where breaks occurred is believed in danger.

The situation in Illinois, and Kentucky, where the flood is now raging, is viewed as extremely serious by Representative Rainey of Illinois, and Representative Gregory of Kentucky. Mr. Rainey believes that while the upper Mississippi River levees on the Illinois side of the river bank are giving way, those on the Illinois River will hold. The army engineers are blamed by Mr. Gregory for present conditions in western Kentucky, where he contends that strengthening of levees on the Missouri bank "had raised the flood plane two feet on the Kentucky side."

PERU GROCER IS CONVICTED IN FEDERAL COURT

Frank Urbanowski to be Sentenced for Booze Conspiracy

Chicago, April 27.—(AP)—Frank Urbanowski, wholesale grocer of Peru, Ill., was convicted by a jury today of conspiring to violate the federal prohibition act. Three co-defendants were acquitted. Ten men were originally indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of operating a liquor syndicate. Urbanowski was said to have become wealthy through sales of sugar to the distillers, and federal agents testified to finding a huge still on his property. Three of the defendants pleaded guilty when the trial opened, and the other seven were directed to be acquitted. The case of the remaining four went to the jury in Federal Judge Fred L. Wham's court late yesterday.

The trio acquitted by the jury were Leno Tognioni, Jack Collins of Dayton, Ohio, and Julio Biollo. The verdict was returned before Judge James Wilkerson in the absence of Judge Wham, who will return Monday to pass sentence. The charges were possession, sale and manufacture of alcohol, maintenance of a public nuisance and conspiracy.

CRAMER MAKES A SOLO FLIGHT IN ARCTIC REGIONS

Leaves Nome, Alaska, For New York in Plane Today

Nome, Alaska, April 27.—(AP)—Completing a 400 mile non-stop solo flight that took him from North America over Asia and back, Parker Cramer, Chicago aviator, returned here late yesterday. The flight took Cramer from Nome to Cape Prince of Wales, across the ice choked Bering Strait, over Little Diomed Island to East Cape and back over the same route. East Cape, the most easterly tip of Siberia, is just 60 miles from Cape Wales. Cramer dropped packages at Cape Wales and on the island. He shot motion pictures of the island but had little hope of their turning out well as the visibility was poor. The aviator planned to leave Nome today with W. S. Gamble, for New York. He said he expected to make the transcontinental flight in five days or less.

Indict Three For Alleged Fraud In St. Louis Contract

St. Louis, April 27.—(AP)—A. M. Ryckoff, Chicago contractor; John C. Pritchard, director of public utilities in St. Louis, and George B. Heath, Pritchard's chief electrical engineer, were indicted by a grand jury last night on a charge of obtaining $175,000 from the city by false pretenses. The indictments were revealed today. The charge grew out of an investigation into Ryckoff's contract for installing electric light under a municipal bond issue, and were based on information revealed by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in an investigation over a period of months. The firm's statement said: "The A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company, after the usual spring shutdown, resumed operations Friday with a full force and a normal grind. The factory has been closed for five days." The firm previously had denied that the suspension was caused by government investigation of the legality of corn sugar sales to buyers who might use it for liquor making purposes.

SUMMER TIME TO BEGIN TOMORROW IN THE BIG CITIES

Daylight Saving Goes Into Effect in Chicago, New York, Etc.

New York, April 27.—(AP)—Beginning tomorrow and continuing until September 29, some 25,000,000 persons will work, sleep and eat by timepieces that are an hour fast compared with standard time, and thereby will have opportunity to be outdoors longer in daylight hours. Officially clocks will be set forward one hour at 2 P. M. tomorrow to begin the daylight saving season. Most persons simply will set their timepieces an hour fast before they go to bed tonight.

The change will be made effective in this and 185 other New York state communities, throughout New Jersey, in Philadelphia, many parts of Pennsylvania, New England and in Chicago and a few other inland cities throughout the province of Quebec and some cities of Ontario. The Wall Street district will conform to the summer timekeeping. This means that trading hours on the stock exchange will be the same by the clock as during the winter, but actually the opening and closing will be an hour earlier.

CHANGE SCHEDULES ON RAILROADS FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

JUDGE HARDY IS FOUND INNOCENT BY THE SENATE

Friend of Mrs. McPherson Acquitted Of Charges

By HOMER L. ROBERTS (United Press Staff Correspondent) Sacramento, Calif., April 27.—(UP)—While Almee Semple McPherson inveighed bitterly against her "persecutors", the shadow of accusation in the evangelist's mysterious kidnapping was lifted today from Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy by the verdict of acquittal of the California senate court of impeachment.

The sad, quiet woman who cried audibly as assembly prosecutors branded her kidnapping story as an "unmitigated fabrication" and accused the elderly jurist of official misconduct and obstructing justice in defending her, was transformed into a defiant woman who employed every ounce of her revivified fervor in denunciations of her "persecutors."

Could Not Stop Her

The statement of Assemblyman Walter J. Little that the assembly managers, "believing that ample proof now exists of conspiracy," would be willing to turn over to the Los Angeles district attorney all their evidence against the evangelist, failed to halt her attack. Mrs. McPherson charged that the assembly prosecutors were "publicly seeking" that they had boasted of evidence against her which they could not substantiate and that they had made it appear that she and not Judge Hardy was on trial. "Through three years of grueling persecution my faith in God and justice never has been shaken," she said. "As for the silly stories that have been spread concerning my whereabouts on various occasions I can only revert to my former statements and say that such stories are unworthy of an answer."

People ask me constantly how I have kept up through the barrage of sensational stories concerning me. I have been able to do so because of my innocence, and my faith in the work of the Master, and I have been strengthened through it all through confidence and loyalty of my 200,000 members and followers."

WRIGHTS' EXPERIMENTS

Twenty years ago today, on April 27, 1909, Wilbur Wright concluded a series of successful experiments with his airplane in Italy. The comparative closeness of this pioneering step brings home forcibly the rapid strides that aviation has taken in the 20 years since. As is well known, these experiments were made at various times in Italy, both by Wilbur Wright and his brother, Orville, because atmospheric conditions in that balmy climate were found to offer the least resistance to man's attempts to conquer the air. Several foreign aeronauts, concerned chiefly with glider experiments, had proved this. It is interesting to note that about this same time, Thomas Edison made the prophesy that "in ten years flying machines will be used to carry mails." They will carry passengers, too," he said, "and they will go at a speed of 100 miles an hour." During this same year the Wright brothers delivered a plane to the United States government which met the War Department's specifications, including the ability to go 40 miles an hour.

The cost of continuing with the incorporation plans and carrying out the organization of a village is said to have halted the movement.

WM. KNAPP A VICTIM LATE YESTERDAY

Body Not Identified Until This Morning—Hold Inquest

William Knapp of this city was instantly killed late evening a few minutes before 6 o'clock when struck by north bound Illinois Central passenger train No. 130 about three miles south of Dixon. Identification of the body was not made until shortly before 9 o'clock this morning when Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber and Officer John Bohndel viewed the remains at the Jones funeral home. A brother, Roy Knapp of this city was immediately notified and completed identification.

Walking Between Rails

The deceased was walking between the tracks about a half mile north of the Northwestern cut-off viaduct last evening when struck by the north bound train. Engineer Mullen Edwards of Freeport discovered the man as his train was approaching from the south and at first believed him to be a flagman. At the inquest conducted by Coroner Frank M. Banker this morning Engineer Edwards testified that he blew a crossing signal whistle when he observed the man walking between the tracks. The victim of the accident was walking just inside the west rail and at the sound of the whistle looked back toward the train, then started to cross over to the east side of the track.

"The train was travelling about 60 miles an hour when I discovered the man and sounded the whistle," Engineer Edwards testified. "Looking back, he crossed toward the east rail and then turned again and started back toward the west rail, when he suddenly sank to his knees. I applied the emergency air brake and the train was probably making 50 miles an hour when he was struck. He appeared to be trying to get up again and was on his hands and knees when I saw him last. The pilot of the engine struck him, throwing him to the fence on the west side of the right of way. Stopping the train, we backed up and members of the crew placed the body on a stretcher and it was brought to the Dixon station."

Had Labored Step

The engineer testified that the man appeared to walk with labored step, and added that had he continued east across the track or could have crossed back to the west that he could have escaped being struck. Fireman G. B. Sutterlin of Freeport gave his version of the sad accident which corroborated that of Engineer Edwards. Conductor P. J. Crossen of Freeport, who was in charge of the train, also testified before the inquest.

James Hartshorn of Sublette, who was walking toward Dixon from Eldena, was probably the last person to see the man alive. He testified that at about 3:30 he was walking north on the railroad right of way toward Dixon and close to the scene of the fatal accident, observed a man near the fence on the west side of the right of way.

Tried to Climb Bank

"He appeared to be trying to get up the steep embankment on the right of way, but seemed to be having difficulty in keeping his feet. I at first thought that I would go down and help him up, but then decided that the railroad track would be a bad place for him and came on to Dixon. I was at the Illinois Central depot when I heard that he had been killed, and when I looked at the body, I was satisfied that it was the same man. When I saw him first, he fell back into the fence a couple of times and his hat fell off." The remains, which were in a badly mangled condition were brought on the passenger train to the Seventh street passenger station and Coroner F. M. Banker was notified. The coroner arrived last evening and made an investigation in an effort to secure some identification, but there were no letters or papers found in the clothing which would aid in this. The body was ordered removed to the Jones funeral home to be held until members of the train crew could reach Dixon this morning. About 9 o'clock Chief Van Bibber and Officer Bohndel viewed the remains and identified the body. The brother, Roy Knapp was immediately notified by the officers. The jury this morning returned a verdict of accidental death. Both legs and the left arm were broken and the head was crushed when the body was struck by the pilot of the locomotive, causing instant death. About $17 in money was found on the body and Conductor Crossen turned this over to Coroner Banker, after the members of the crew had searched the

U. S. CONSULATE IN OBREGON HIT BY AERIAL BOMB

Mexican Federal Raid from Air Reported: Rebels in Flight

Washington, April 27—(AP)—Damage to the American consulate at Ciudad Obregon, Mexico, by bombs dropped from federal airplanes was reported to the State Department today by Vice Consul Eaton who was drafting a routine report to Secretary Stimson when a bomb dropped through the roof of the building and exploded.

Eaton said three federal planes flew over the city early this week and dropped three bombs. One of them exploded in front of the consulate and another came through the roof. The explosion inside the building caused considerable property damage but there were no injuries although consulate employees and Eaton were covered by dust from the blast.

The report, received by Stimson today, contained the story of the bombs as the final paragraph with the additional information that the bombs dropped while Eaton was drafting it.

STRENGTHEN PATROLS

Nogales, Ariz., April 27—(AP)—Indications that the retreat of Mexican rebels in Sonora had turned into a flight toward the international line after the bombing of their headquarters at Navajo in the southern part of that state caused American army forces to strengthen their border patrols today.

Three retreating Mexican rebel leaders arrived at the border yesterday. On the same train were several Americans who confirmed reports that the revolutionaries had vacated Navajo.

The rebel chiefs were Generals Ramon P. Irtube and Ricardo Topete and Major R. H. Polk, an American who has been acting as commander of the revolutionary army forces.

General J. Gonzalo Escobar, supreme commander of the insurgents, remained in his Nogales headquarters. A report that his chief lieutenant, General Fausto Topete, brother of Ricardo, also has moved to the border was denied at headquarters. It was reported Fausto Topete remained in command of his troops south of here.

Two thousand American troops were assembled at Camp Stephan D. Little, here. Two squadrons of cavalry were ordered here from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and numerous outposts were established all along the American side of the line.

DRAMATIC BATTLE

Mexico City, April 27—(AP)—Federal victory in the four day battle with 1500 "Cristeros" or so-called religious rebels at Tepic, Jalisco, was reported to the government today by General Saturnino Cedillo, commanding the Army of Central Mexico.

General Cedillo said 150 rebels had been killed and 20 captured and had been executed because there were no jails for their confinement. A hundred rebels were wounded, while his own forces lost only 39 dead and 39 wounded.

His report contained a dramatic account of the battle. A force of 400 federals attacked the little town at first with some success but were drawn into an ambush with rebel cavalry attacking them from their rear. All but 140 retired, this group retreating themselves in corrals, where the following three days they withstood stiff rebel attacks.

On the fourth day General Cedillo arrived with reinforcements and drove off the rebels, completing occupation of the city. The battle was described as the stiffest opposition the army sent to Jalisco to subdue the "Cristeros" has yet met.

General Calles reported his troops in hot pursuit of the rebel west coast army which yesterday escaped from the trap he had set for them, by abandoning their troop trains at a burned bridge, north of Navajola and fleeing afoot further north.

Tactics of School Board Starts Row Among Chicagoans

Chicago, April 27—(AP)—Methods employed by H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, and William J. Bogan, superintendent, to gain legislation legalizing a tax increase of $21,675,000 for the present year, have precipitated a storm of protest.

The protests came from parents of school children, who were given 600,000 printed postal cards yesterday urging members of legislature to support measure. Under threat of encouraging the displeasure of their instructors, children said they had been requested by teachers and principals to return the cards bearing the parents' signatures.

Early and continued reports of the protestants' attitude reached the school headquarters and Mayor Thompson, but no official action was taken.

The bill asking the increase for this year and one of $26,575,000 next year was prepared by the school board, which claims that schools cannot open in September unless the increases are granted. The postal card system was later devised as a means of bringing pressure upon legislators.

FIRE DRY AGENT RESPONSIBLE IN AURORA KILLING

Kane County State's Attorney Dismisses Walter Millar

Geneva, Ill., April 27—(UP)—Walter Millar, chief investigator for the Kane County state's attorney's office, who assertedly directed the liquor raid which resulted in the killing of Mrs. Lillian DeKing of Aurora was dismissed today.

Millar's dismissal was announced by State's Attorney George D. Carberry. It was said the action concerned Millar's alleged practice of paying prohibition investigators on a commission basis for liquor purchases and affidavits.

State's Attorney Carberry said Millar had charge of the southern section of the county including Aurora and had employed Eugene Boyd Fairchild who admittedly swore a false statement concerning a liquor purchase at the DeKing home.

The Kane county grand jury, reported to have exonerated Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith who killed Mrs. DeKing, will return its report next Tuesday. It was said a true bill charging prejury had been voted against Fairchild who was dismissed from the investigator's staff after the DeKing episode.

Dixon District S. S. Worker to Banquet On Tuesday Evening

Dixon District S. S. Workers will hold a "Picnic Banquet" in Bethel Evangelical Church Dining room, next Tuesday evening, at six-thirty o'clock. The customary plan will obtain, to wit: banquets bringing voluntary articles and their own dishes, with coffee, etc., provided by the Bethel school. Henry W. Hicks is chairman of the program committee, and Kathryn Lehman, song-leader.

The theme of the occasion will be "Improvement," and the discussion will take the form of five minute talks by representatives of nine schools, who will each discuss advance steps desired and contemplated in their respective schools.

Regret is felt at the co-incidence of date with the farewell reception for the Rev. Frank Brandt and family, in the Grace Evangelical Church, since these have been valued helpers in every good cause; but they will be guests at the supper and lend time for a word, before the opening of the service in their own church.

The full program at Bethel church will be:

Items of P. E. O. Convention at Carlinville

With one hundred and eighty (180) delegates from all parts of Illinois, in attendance, the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Illinois P. E. O. Sisterhood opened at Carlinville Tuesday, April 23, with Chapter AC hostess. The convention lasted through Thursday morning.

Mrs. Bessie R. Raney from Chicago, the state president, presided at all the sessions, and the honor guests were Mrs. Ola B. Miller, President of Supreme Chapter; Miss Mabel Josephine Doud, Treasurer of Supreme Chapter; Mrs. Winona Evans Reeves, Editor of P. E. O. Record; Mrs. Virginia Cottey Stockard, Founder and President of Cottey College.

There were many interesting things, aside from the reports of committees and individual reports. Carlinville is a charming old southern Illinois town, with state trees and wide streets, and one of its most interesting features is Blackburn College. This is a "Self-Help" college, which, as its name implies, is made up of only students who need the help, and no outside help is employed by the college in the carrying on of its daily work.

The banquet of the P. E. O. convention was served at Blackburn and the entire work was ably carried out by the students. Dr. Hudson and his accomplished wife are the head of this institution.

There were charming musical numbers at the banquet, addresses by Dr. Hudson, Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Miller.

During the convention, various phases of the P. E. O. work were discussed, chief among which were the Educational Fund, which furnished money to educate young women who need help, and Cottey College which is in the charge of the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

W. C. T. U. Meeting at Rev. Marshall Home

The W. C. T. U. meeting was held April 19th at the home of Rev. W. Marshall and was well attended in spite of the unfavorable weather.

The president called the meeting to order. All joined in singing "America, the Beautiful," and the "Crusader's Hymn."

Miss Callie Morgan had charge of the devotion. The business meeting followed and then the program. Mrs. Hobbs read an article from "The Union Signal," entitled "The Gay, Free Life of the Bootlegger?" This was followed by a duet by Mrs. Hartman and Mrs. Klein, entitled "Lift Up Thine Eyes." They graciously responded to an encore and sang, "In the Garden of Prayer." They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stock.

Mrs. McKinney then gave a reading entitled "Farmer Brown's Letter," also "When Mother Rocks the Baby." She kindly responded to an encore with "When Callers come."

Mrs. Marshall then served most delicious refreshments and at the close of the happy afternoon all voted Mrs. Marshall a very gracious hostess.

Poppy Day Sales On May 29 and 30

Chicago, Apr. 26—(AP)—Calling upon the citizens of Illinois to aid the buddies who "are still fighting and enduring the hell of war," David L. Shillinglaw, commander of the Illinois department of the American Legion today urged support of the Poppy Day sales endeavor, May 29 and 30.

Poppies sold by the American Legion and its auxiliary on Poppy Days are made by disabled veterans and all profit from the sale goes to service and welfare work among the disabled men and their dependents, Shillinglaw said.

One million two hundred thousand poppies were sold by the Department of Illinois through its posts last year at five cents each, netting the state Legion the sum of $41,552.10 for welfare work. Any amounts over five cents per poppy received by the posts are kept by them for relief and service work in their own communities. "Ever since its organization," Shillinglaw said, "The American Legion has considered the care of the disabled, its major purpose. As a result of its activities approximately 250,000 men are drawing compensation, 50,000 tuberculars, 54,000 mental wrecks, 140,000 medical. There are approximately 30,000 in the hospitals, over 3,000 of them being in Illinois.

"Mental cases have increased 90 per cent in the last four years. We have it on good authority that we will not reach our maximum number of cases until 1938, therefore, we must have a forward-looking program. Nine hundred ninety ex-service men in Illinois were committed to institutions last year. A great many are still suffering from tuberculosis and other diseases. No care or expense should be too great for them.

"Poppy sales are handled by approximately all American Legion Auxiliary units, composed of the mothers, wives and sisters of the members of the American Legion. All expenditures are carefully made in accordance with a definite budget, prepared by the Department Executive Committee and approved by the state convention.

"It is the duty of us all to give and to serve those who still suffer from the war. We promise to administer all funds carefully that we may continue worthy of your trust."

Presbyterian Missionary Soc. Met Friday

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. E. B. Raymond Friday afternoon, April 26. Seventeen members and three guests were present.

The meeting was opened by singing the hymn, "The Whole World Knows" followed by prayer for missionaries. A business session followed, the president, Mrs. J. F. Young presiding.

Reports were read by the various secretaries of the society and the goals for the coming year outlined. Committees were appointed to arrange for the Presbyterian which is to be held here May 9 and 10.

Mrs. Lennor had charge of the devotion, using as her subject "I Have Glorified Thee on Earth."

"The subject for the afternoon was 'The Negro in America.' Mrs. Phil Raymond accompanied by Mrs. Smith, sang a group of spirituals which were much enjoyed by all. Following this Mrs. W. C. Thompson gave a very interesting talk, telling of the work which is being done by the church in educating the negro and the progress many of them are making.

There are now 272 Negro Presbyterian ministers in the service of the Mission Board. She closed her talk with one of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's beautiful poems. After another song had been sung the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

A social time followed during which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Shortened Sleeves Come With Spring

BY DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris—(AP)—Not only the question of sleeves or no sleeves, but how much sleeve, if any, is raised by spring styles.

Many of the silk dresses for wear under jackets and coats are sleeveless or have a mere vestige of sleeve over the shoulder. Sometimes it is a dropped shoulder line which comes an inch or so over the shoulder.

There are other models with sewed in sleeves less than six inches long. Elbow length sleeves, without cuffs or trimming bands, are shown by some of the highest authorities in the fashion world. They are featured on both silk and lightweight wool dresses.

Three-quarters and seven-eighths sleeves nearly always show brief lingerie undersleeves or cuffs.

Redingote coats with many small buttons down the front are the accompaniment of several short sleeved dresses at one well known house.

Most of them are in dark blue, over dark blue or red dresses of small print. The sleeves are the briefest possible caps or little puffs.

GIRL'S TALENTS SO MANY CAREER CHOICE STUMPS HER

Pullman, Wash.—(AP)—Anna Dynowska, comely Washington state college senior, can do so many things that her main problem is which line of endeavor to follow after leaving college.

Artist, dancer, writer, linguist and musician, Miss Dynowska came to America from Warsaw five years ago, alone and dependent upon her own resourcefulness for support. Undaunted by strange surroundings, she enrolled as a biology major at Washington state and has maintained an average of 90 per cent in her studies.

Before coming to America she was head of the filing and mailing department of the American consulate at Warsaw.

FASHIONS

Are Tunics a Subterfuge to Break the Line of Longer Skirts?

BY FRANCES PAGET
Copyright, 1929, by Style Sources
New York, April 26.—(UP)—There has never been a season when the success of prints has been so unquestioned and unqualified. They now seem to be accepted as the summer fabric expression, and are received as staples of the mode rather than as novelties. In every collection, the most exclusive as well as the most popular prints have danced gaily into the picture, in jackets, in ensembles, in sports frocks, in beach types, in linings and in formal evening themes, constantly reflected in accessories as well.

They run the gamut of design from demure, neutral two-tone effects, through an entire scale of small, medium and larger florals to splashy and huge spaced designs for evening. Here, too, the color play is important and some of the most interesting versions this season are the sheers in which multi-color effects are posed on black grounds. The success of printed chiffons for evening in Palm Beach is another influence in favor of the augmented exploitation of patterned sheers for dancing hours at summer resorts. Printed nets, printed laces and organdies are also included in this classification.

In favor of prints this season have been the fact that many different types have been offered to suit costumes for different occasions; the use of brilliant colors on dark grounds—bright motifs on dark brown, dark red or black; the new favor for green prints, and the exploitation of detached motifs on crepes and confused patterns on clifflons.

In speaking of prints for summer evening wear, warp-printed taffetas cannot be overlooked. Paris couturiers are sponsoring them for the very sophisticated types of picturesque gowns which are supplanting the more naive robes de style. This fashion is said to be only at its beginning and at present is considered very exclusive. Much of its charm is due to the original floral patterns which have been conceived—medleys of florals, great leaves and three-toned sprays.

FASHION HINTS—

How Tie
A white faille taffeta frock with a natural waistline and flaring circular skirt has a sweet bias banding of white organdie around the neck like a Chinese collar and a pert bow tie. Chic Footnote.

Eton Jacket.
A new pair of walking shoes in snakeskin has a modernist tip, strap and bandings around the shank of calfskin in a dark brown.

Trouser Skirt.
A new apple green rashanare suit has all-around pleated skirt on a yoke and a jaunty Eton jacket over an off-white satin blouse.

New Relations
Necklines are treated now in relation with hemlines. The evening gown of longer backline invariably is cut lower in the back than the front. To correct, its décolletage should round, point or be irregular as the hemline. Daytime frocks copy this relationship.

Wrap-Around.
A carmenita flat crepe frock has a tight, wide hip yoke and a wrap-around skirt that opens on the right rear side with its edge outlined in scallops. The berth is split on one side of the back and scalloped also.

One Lapel.
A new coat of bright navy crepe has a novel closing. The right side is finished with a three-inch facing that extends around the neck to form a turn-down collar and ends in a long scarf that hangs below the waist on the left side. The left front has a finished lapel that buttons across to the right facing.

Bridal Lingerie.
Egg-shell satin, with black Alencon, fashions a luxurious set of bridal lingerie. The gown is princess and dips in the back. The slip and the step envelope chemise both favor fitted lines.

Formal Hat.
A smart little black satin beret is formalized by the addition of gold and silver flowers on the lower left side. A fine-meshed silver grey nose veil completes the picture.

A SINGER TURNS FARMER.

Miss Marion Talley, who was blessed by nature with a voice of marvelous beauty, seems also to have been gifted with a good deal of discernment.

A few years ago Miss Talley, coming out of Kansas City to fame and riches as a star of the Metropolitan Opera Co., was listed among that band of ardent young men and women who have "dedicated their lives to art." She began a brilliant career; and we lesser mortals, who have a sneaking feeling that following the fine arts must bring more satisfaction than any other kind of life, envied her greatly.

Now, however, she is retiring—retiring when, by all the laws of probability, her career could be continued for years and years. She will sing no more, she says, either in grand opera or on the concert stage. Instead she will travel through the middle west, buy a farm and settle down to the pursuit of agriculture.

Did ever a young artist do anything like this before? Probably not; and, we repeat, it proves that the young lady from Kansas City has a great deal of discernment.

People who "dedicate their lives to their art," as the saying has it, do not do it primarily for the sake of the money they will get, or for fame and adulation. Those things count, of course; but no one worth his salt ever followed one of the fine arts for any other primary reason than the belief that he could make his life more satisfying, more full, more self-expressive, in that way than in any other.

But Miss Talley, who had several years' experience on the very pinnacle, gives it up at the height of her powers and prepares to retire to a farm. What's more, she says she isn't just going to play at farming; she wants to get out and dig in the dirt, herself, and be a real farmer.

There are various ways of expressing oneself. It can be done by singing beautiful songs, by writing poetry, by carving statues out of stone, by painting pictures; and it also can be done in much homelier fashion, by getting close to the warm black earth and making oneself a close-range spectator of the satisfying, never-ending pageant of growth and fulfillment, death and rebirth, seeding and harvest. If a Verdi aria can lift one's soul up to the stars, and hint at the ultimate secrets, so can a field of ripening wheat.

There are more ways of expressing the faith that is in one than by following one of the arts. A spring morning in the country can be as soul-filling as the grandest music ever written. Miss Talley, more discerning than most, is able to recognize that fact.

DISPOSING OF OLD AUTOS.

Where do all the old automobiles go to?

Sooner or later, after passing through or four used-car sales-rooms, most of them hit the junk shops and are taken apart for the value of their material as scrap. But not all of them.

More people than you would think simply abandon old autos. In New York, 70 abandoned cars were picked up by the police in one day. They were old, ramshackle machines whose owners had simply parked them in the streets, removed their license plates and gone their way.

With more than 20,000,000 automobile owners in the country, this sort of thing might easily become a big problem. Yet even in the most ruinous old auto there is still a good deal of expensive steel and other metal. The engineer who can find a cheap way to salvage such material ought to be able to make a fortune.

Gene Tunney, vacation companion of George Bernard Shaw in Italy, refused to discuss Shaw with reporters. Oh, well, Shaw himself can take care of that well enough.

A magazine writer asserts that if insanity continues at its present rate, in 200 years there will not be a sane man or woman in the United States. What! Only one person going nutty every year!

Legislator O. B. Whitaker of Missouri, who lost his voice recently and has found it an advantage to have to commit his sentiments to paper, thinks it might be better if all legislators were dumb. But you might think, from hearing them talk, that most of them were.

A man in Brooklyn, arrested for wife beating, was sentenced to kiss his wife every morning for six months. The woman pays and pays.

If all the telephone conversations in the United States were laid end to end it would be 5 o'clock and you would be trying to use that line to ask the wife if there was anything she wanted you to bring home for supper.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAJ. COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KICK

The Goofygoo flew through the air, and really didn't seem to care if all the clouds broke out with rain and flooded everything. He felt that he could fly real fast till every pesky cloud was past. To him such things as thunder showers just didn't mean a thing.

The Tinymites, however, stood as close together as they could within the little cabin that was on the big bird's back. Said Scouty, "Just where are we bound? And, do you think we're safe and sound. A puff of wind may come along and give us all a whack."

"Now, don't you worry," said the bird. "I guess that you have never heard that I'm a wondrous guardian. I'll see that you're all right. By flying fast I soon will land upon the ground where I can stand. It won't be long until the dark clouds all are out of sight."

So on he flew. The wind grew stiff. The cabin rocked, with bang and blif. It seemed the thing would fall apart. Of course this scared the bunch. "Whoever planned this trip up here?" whined Carpy. "I am filled with fear. We should have stayed right on the ground. This was a crazy hunch."

"Be quiet," cried the Goofygoo. "I'm watching closely over you. I still am certain I can reach the ground before it's night. If we once land, and land with ease, you all can hide by monstrous trees, and then the rain won't touch you and you'll surely be all right."

Just then there came a sudden snap, and bits of rope began to flap. "The cabin's broke loose. Oh, my!" cried Clowny, with a frown. The next thing that the Tinymites knew, the cabin left the Goofygoo, and mid the wind that blew so strong, began to topple down.

(The Goofygoo pulls a clever trick in the next story.)

BRITISH PRAISE
U. S. SUGGESTION
ON DISARMAMENTThree Leading Men of Britain in Support of U. S. Efforts

BULLETIN

Geneva, April 26—(AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, American disarmament spokesman, announced at the meeting of the preparatory commission on disarmament today that the United States would withdraw its reservation to the exclusion of trained reserves from any limitation of armaments.

London, April 26—(AP)—Broad praise of American disarmament proposals by three leading figures of Great Britain was before the British people today.

More important even than mere praise was the declaration of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in an election meeting at Bristol that His Majesty's government favored the same drastic reduction to every class of naval vessel that Ambassador Gibson himself proposed at Geneva.

"This is and has been throughout our purpose and desire," the Premier declared, "and we will cooperate cordially with the United States to secure its general acceptance."

He added that the American suggestions as to the manner in which disarmament might be accomplished were equally welcomed with the proposals for disarmament itself but that the British government must wait until these suggestions have been given concrete form before making answer to them.

"Above all," he said, "we welcome and we appreciate the spirit in which President Hoover has approached this difficult problem and we hope with American aid to find in his suggestion a basis of a practical solution."

Lord Cecil of Chelwood, whose own vigorous espousal of disarmament led recently to what some considered a break with other conservative party leaders, in a speech at London referred to Ambassador Gibson's proposals as "a tremendously important offer."

MAKING PROGRESS

Geneva, April 26—(UP)—The leading powers, after several years of deadlock, made great strides today towards actual disarmament today with the United States pointing the way.

The British and Japanese delegations to the preparatory disarmament conference received instructions from their governments which made it highly probable that an effort would be made to convene a naval reduction conference in Washington next year.

At the same time, Hugh S. Gibson, United States delegate, announced that the United States is ready to make far-reaching concessions on land forces, and would not insist on the limitation of trained reserves in reducing the armies of the great powers.

Given Impetus

His announcement gave great impetus to the growing spirit of frankness and co-operation at the conference. It was hailed warmly by France. Count Massigli, the French delegate, expressed his country's emotion at the attitude of the United States. France, Massigli said, is not militaristic, but is obliged to insist on trained reserves because she is convinced of the necessity for security.

France, like the United States, he added, will place all her cards on the table during the remainder of the discussions.

Japan followed suit and responded to Gibson's plea for frankness, which he made in announcing the American viewpoint. Noatak Sato, the Japanese delegate, thanked Gibson for withdrawal of the United States opposition to trained reserves, which Japan has found imperative. Japan, he added, will unhesitatingly lay before the commission all her problems.

Was Sensation

Gibson's declaration, in which he urged frank dealing and announcement of all concessions at the start, instead of using them for bargaining, was the greatest sensation since his announcement last Monday of the American naval reduction proposals. "Heretofore," Gibson said, "the United States has insisted that trained reserves be included in peacetime effectiveness, which are subject to limitation. We believed that any country with trained effectiveness was in a superior position to a country with only untrained men. We still believe so, but in a spirit of conciliation, and recognizing that the question concerns principally the military powers, the United States will no longer insist on its viewpoint, but will accept the agreement reached thereon by the military powers."

Chicago, April 26—(UP)—Robert Maynard Hutchins, member of an old New England family and Dean of the Law School of Yale, will become the youngest president of a major American university July 1, when he assumes the Chief Executive position at the University of Chicago. He was 30 years old last January.

Announcement of Hutchins' selection was made here last night by Harold H. Swift, president of the Board of Trustees of the University, who said the move was unanimous and enthusiastic on the part of the trustees.

The new president succeeds Max Mason, who resigned last June to become Director of the Division of Natural Sciences of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The appointment recalls the selection of William Rainey Harper as the first head of the institution. Harper, also a Yale graduate and faculty member, was but 34 years old when he took over the presidency 37 years ago.

The new president was born in Brooklyn. He studied at Oberlin Academy, graduating in 1915. He served with the United States Ambulance Corps from 1917 to 1919 and was attached to the Italian Army in 1918-19. He was decorated by the Italian government with Croce de Guerra for bravery under fire. He entered Yale after leaving the service in 1921. His father, William James Hutchins, also was a Yale graduate and received his bachelor's degree in 1919.

RECORDS IN DRAKE RELAYS FACE NEW ASSAULTS TODAY

West Point Cadet was the Sensation of Friday's Events

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Des Moines, Ia., April 27—(AP)—Records established in former Drake relay carnivals appeared doomed today as 2,500 athletes from 300 universities, colleges and high schools swept into the finals of the western track and field classic.

Indications were highly favorable for record smashing. The track, soaked by a two days downpour, was drying out rapidly under a mid-summer sun and a light breeze. It gave promise of being lightning fast for the deciding tests of speed.

The record breaking started in the preliminaries yesterday when Carl Jark, a blonde young giant, wearing the gray of a West Point Cadet, cut loose with an amazing throw of the discus to set a new world's record of 158 feet 3 inches.

The performance of Jark, a 23 year old 200 pounder, eclipsed the previous world mark of 153 feet 1 1/2 inches made by Clarence "Bud" Houser of the University of Southern California in 1926. Jark, who is 6 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, made the record on his first attempt.

He has a chance of bettering it in the finals today, but holds out no hope as his record breaking toss yesterday was 10 feet better than any previous attempt in his career. He never before has succeeded in tossing in the sixteen pound missile better than 148 feet.

Jack Promises Thrill.
The final of the 100 yard dash promises to be a thriller with Claude Bracey, the Texas tornado from Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, matching his speed with Jack Elder, the Notre Dame flyer, and Eddie Toland, University of Michigan's Negro sprinter.

Bracey, accredited with stepping the century in :09 4-10 two weeks ago, made the fastest time in the trials yesterday. He won his heat, with five yards to spare, in :09 7-10. Elder dashed to victory in his heat in :09 9-10, breaking the tape two yards ahead of Toland.

With a trio of headline performers in the pole vault, the winner appears to be in doubt. Tommy Warne of Northwestern, Henry Canby of Iowa and Otterness of Minnesota easily survived the trials, clearing the bar at 12 feet to qualify. Warne has soared 13 feet 7 1/2 inches and Canby 13 feet 7 1/2 inches, in indoor competition this season, with Otterness edging up on them.

Evenly matched teams will battle for honors in the relays. The surviving teams in the University quarter mile are Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Michigan, Kansas and Chicago. In the one mile relay, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Northwestern, Michigan and Indiana earned their right to meet in the finals. Missouri made the fastest time in the preliminaries yesterday, ripping off the distance in 3:20 1-10.

THE SCOREBOARD

By United Press
Yesterday's hero, Harry Seibold, Reading recruit obtained in the Hornsby deal, who pitched the Boston Braves into first place in the National League with a 4 to 2 victory over the New York Giants. He held the Giants to six hits and was unscathed on until the ninth.

Jess Haines held the Reds to four hits and the St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati, 9 to 2. The victory elevated the Cards into a tie with the Cubs for second place in the National League.

The Chicago Cubs knocked Ray Kremer out of the box for the second time this season and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 6.

Babe Herman continued his terrific hitting with a single, double and home run and Brooklyn extended its winning streak to three games by beating the Phillies, 7 to 6.

"Old Man" Quinn held the New York Yankees to six hits and the Philadelphia Athletics beat the world champions, 5 to 2. The Yankees made the first triple play of the 1929 major league season in the sixth inning. With the bases filled, Hale rolled to Johnson, with Grabowski, Gehrig and Koenig completing the play.

Scoring five runs in the eighth inning the St. Louis Browns beat the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3.

Twenty hits—four each by Joe Sewell and Jameson—enabled the Cleveland Indians to triumph over the Detroit Tigers, 11 to 5. Wesley Ferrell, rookie pitcher, won his third game of the season.

Jack Russell shaded Ad Liska in a pitcher's duel and the Boston Red Sox beat the Washington Senators, 2 to 1. Liska held the Red Sox to three hits until the eighth inning, but hits by Reeves, Taitt and Rothrock accounted for two runs.

Senior Class Wins Intra-School Meet

The senior athletes of the Dixon high school triumphed yesterday afternoon in an inter-class track and field meet held at the high school field in which the four classes competed. When the points were tallied the seniors were found to have 47 credits, the juniors 31, sophomores 27 and freshmen, 20. Some good marks were made during the afternoon in some of the events and the outing gave an opportunity for the athletes to demonstrate their ability for coming events which start next week.

Coach A. C. Bowers hopes to be able to stage the dual meet with the Rock Falls high school at the north side field next Wednesday evening if the weather permitting. This event has been twice postponed on account of rain and if not held next Wednesday may be cancelled completely. Next Saturday all of the Rock River conference athletes will go to Sterling for the annual meet which will be staged in the community field.

BOSTON BRAVES IN FIRST PLACE IN OLDER LEAGUE

But Rumble of Chicago and St. Louis Teams Permeates East

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Although the antics of the Boston Braves at the Polo Grounds yesterday enabled them to defeat the startled Giants by 4 to 2, and so to mount the National League pinnacle, the rumble of Chicago and St. Louis artillery, heavy and light, occupied the attention of baseball addicts all along the front.

Falling for once to get high class pitching, the Cubs proved themselves equally able to win by brute strength as they outslugged the Pirates 9 to 6. The belated National League opening at St. Louis saw the Cardinals subject the Reds to torture 9 to 2.

The Robins rounded out the National League program by shading the Phillies, 7 to 6, in a merry melee at Ebbets field.

Quinn Gets Revenge

Old Jack Quinn, in his second start of the season against the Yankees, obtained revenge for the game the Huguenots snatched from his grasp in the Bronx last week. His opponent was Herb Pennock, ailing Yankee left hander, who gave his arm a try-out after a rest dating back to last August 12.

The A's finally won by 5 to 2 after running up a lead of 4 to 1 against Pennock.

The victory put the Macks back into first place, fourteen points ahead of the Browns, with whom they were tied before the games of yesterday.

At Chicago yesterday the Browns assaulted old Red Faber for five runs in the eighth to win 7 to 3. Coffman and Crowder divided the St. Louis pitching.

Cleveland defeated Detroit 11 to 5 and the Red Sox shaded the Senators 2 to 1 in the remaining American League games.

After 26 long, weary hours in the air, while she swung in wide circles over Roosevelt Field, Long Island, Elinor Smith, the "flying flapper" of Freeport, L. I., brought her Bellanca Monoplane to earth after establishing a new endurance flight record for women. Spectators and field officials surged about the plane to greet the 17-year-old champion and here you see her leaning from the six-passenger cabin ship as it taxied to a stop. For the last six hours she had flown with a disabled stabilizer and had to exert all her strength on the hand controls to hold the heavy craft on its course. She bettered the previous record by more than four hours.

LEVIATHAN AT PORT AFTER WET TRIP FROM EAST

Liner When 12-Mile
Limit is Reached

New York, April 27—(UP)—The United States liner Leviathan, flagship of the United States Lines, completed her first crossing as a wet ship since it was seized from Germany at the beginning of the war, yesterday. The giant ship, carrying 1,400 passengers from Cherbourg and Southampton, warped into the pier.

Hardly had the lines been made fast to the pier and the first gang plank dropped when 50 customs officers went aboard in search of liquor.

According to ship's officers, they would find none because the surplus barroom stock was dropped overboard at 1 1/2 in., well outside the restricted area.

A consignment of $2,000 worth of assorted wines and liquors was taken aboard at Southampton and Cherbourg last Saturday. When the Leviathan approached the 12 mile limit, but 112 bottles of liquor, valued at $500, remained. This surplus was tossed overboard, ship's officers said.

No drinks were served across the bar, passengers being served in the dining salon, the staterooms and the smoking rooms.

All the beer, the officers said, was exhausted Tuesday, when the boat was three days out. The surplus liquor tossed overboard consisted of four cases of brandy, and a quantity of cordials.

SHOULD SINK LINER

Washington, April 27—(AP)—The shooting of an alleged bootlegger by a Washington policeman on Wednesday furnished the subject of the session Friday in the House, and Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, suggested that if this act was proper, the Navy should be ordered to sink the Leviathan.

La Guardia spoke after Representative Holaday, Republican, Illinois, had defended the policeman, Clyde Rouse, who has been held for grand jury action for shooting and killing Ottmer Herman Fleming during an automobile chase. The fleeing car laid a smoke screen in its effort to escape capture.

Holaday's speech led to numerous requests from other members for time to speak on the same subject. The Illinois member related the circumstances of the case, declaring Rouse, with another officer, was told that a man who had committed a felony was coming in their direction in an attempt to escape.

When the car approached, he added, the driver disregarded a traffic signal and the police car began the chase.

LaGuardia said that to be consistent, the government should follow out the policy by putting an end to what he called the biggest bootleg carrier in the world, the Leviathan.

ERRORS OF JOHN J. MCGRAW ARE DEMONSTRATED

Discards Taking Pleasure in Showing Up "Master Mind"

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, April 27—(UP)—One of the smartest men in baseball, John J. McGraw has perhaps made more costly mistakes in trading ball players than any other successful manager.
One of his discards—George Harper—knocked the Giants out of first place in the National League yesterday by hitting a home run with two men on base and leading the Boston Braves to a 4 to 2 triumph over McGraw's team.
McGraw traded Harper to the Cardinals last May for Bob O'Farrell who has never been of much value to the Giants, but Harper has been poison to the Giants ever since. It was Harper who hit three home runs in a crucial battle at the Polo Grounds in the heat of the pennant race last September and enabled the Cardinals to win a vital victory from the Giants. Sent on to the Braves by the Cards during the winter, Harper still retains his jinx over the Giants.

O'Doul Going Good
McGraw's most recent outcast—Frank (Lefty) O'Doul—is pounding the cover off the ball for the Phillies, while Fred Leach—the player for whom he was traded—is riding the Giants' bench. In the first four games against the Giants, O'Doul made nine hits, including three home runs, batting for an average of .530.
Harper and O'Doul are among the five leading hitters in the National League, Harper batting .476 and O'Doul, .464.

Former Giant players cost McGraw the pennant last season.
Artie Nehf, who was cast off four years ago when he developed a sore arm, pitched the Cubs to three victories over the Giants. Rogers Hornsby led the Braves to a double victory over the Giants when McGraw was driving his team down the September stretch.

His Greatest Mistake
McGraw's greatest mistake was perhaps made on Hack Wilson, who was with the Giants in 1924. McGraw knew Wilson was a great ball player but sent him to Toledo for more seasoning and forgot to recall him. The Cubs grabbed Wilson before the Giants discovered their mistake and another star drifted away from the Polo Grounds.

One of McGraw's most recent blunders was the trade which sent Burleigh Grimes to the Pirates in exchange for Vic Aldridge, who was a holdout and reported out of condition, won 4 and lost 7. If McGraw had kept Grimes the Giants would have won the pennant last year in a walk. Aldridge has been railroaded to Newark as punishment for his tactics and the Giants have nothing to show for Grimes.

Another great pitcher who slipped through McGraw's fingers is Red Lucas, Cincinnati Reds' star right-hander. McGraw gave Lucas to the Braves several years ago.

Hooks and Slides

A NEW CHAMPION

"Mr. George Manley (our bad boy but a cracking good fighter) is back in Denver nursing an injured hand, but ready for what fortune may bring," comments a columnist in a Denver paper.

"Every time I look at Manley," the writer continues, "in the ring or out of the ring I am embraced by a thought that there stands a young man who has only to learn when to say yes or when to say no to reach the top of the ladder."

"Mickey Walker makes $50,000 on the Loughran bout—the headlines read the other day. They might just as well have read that George Manley pockets $50,000 after whipping Loughran."

"And George could be the fighter that was able to slam Loughran to the floor once before if he so desired. He whipped Tiny Roebuck, the 210-pound Indian, at Omaha last week with one hand tied behind him. And Roebuck was lucky to survive the fifth and sixth rounds, according to newspaper accounts of the fight."

JUST IMAGINE!
"Big and smiling, with a personality that sweeps anger aside, George moves along his way. Friends greet him happily who would like to kick some reasoning into him. Imagine what it would be if he were the light heavyweight champion of the world."

MACK WANTS MOORE
Mr. McGraw, it is reported, would like to have Eddie Moore, who is playing with the Toledo American Association club. He once played with the Pittsburghs and the Bostonians in the National League and got himself a reputation for being a hard man to handle. But when McGraw needs a ball player for a tough spot he will take chances on handling any of them.

Apparently the Giant leader is disturbed about a second base situation he has on his ball club. He said down in San Antonio that either one of the Andys, Cohen or Reese, could play second base to his liking but there seems to be a situation there nevertheless that doesn't strike McGraw as a championship spot.

MOORE THINKS NOT
When Moore was told that he might be sent up to the Giants from Toledo, he wasn't so jubilant. You would think that the prospect of being liberated from the minors and sent to a ball club that pays some very nice money to its athletes would have made any minor league ball player jubilant. But Moore saw the other side.

"Hell," he said, "if I worked for that guy McGraw I'd never get any dough. I'd owe the club money for fines at the end of the season."

THEIR WEAKNESSES
Some of the experts think that a weakness at second base will cost the Giants any chance they have to win the National League pennant. They can find figures to prove that every great ball club had a great second baseman.

But the Cubs have a weakness at third base even if Rogers Hornsby argues that Beck is a better ball player than Freddy Lindstrom.

A VERY DEEP JOKE

When the Yankees played an exhibition game in Charlotte, N. C., the writers with the team were asked to occupy a temporary press box on the field right behind the plate. It was tiny and fragile with weak-looking screen wire around it.
And the Babe, when he came to the bat, looked at the inmates and asked: "When did they chase the other fowls out of there?"

SPORT BRIEFS

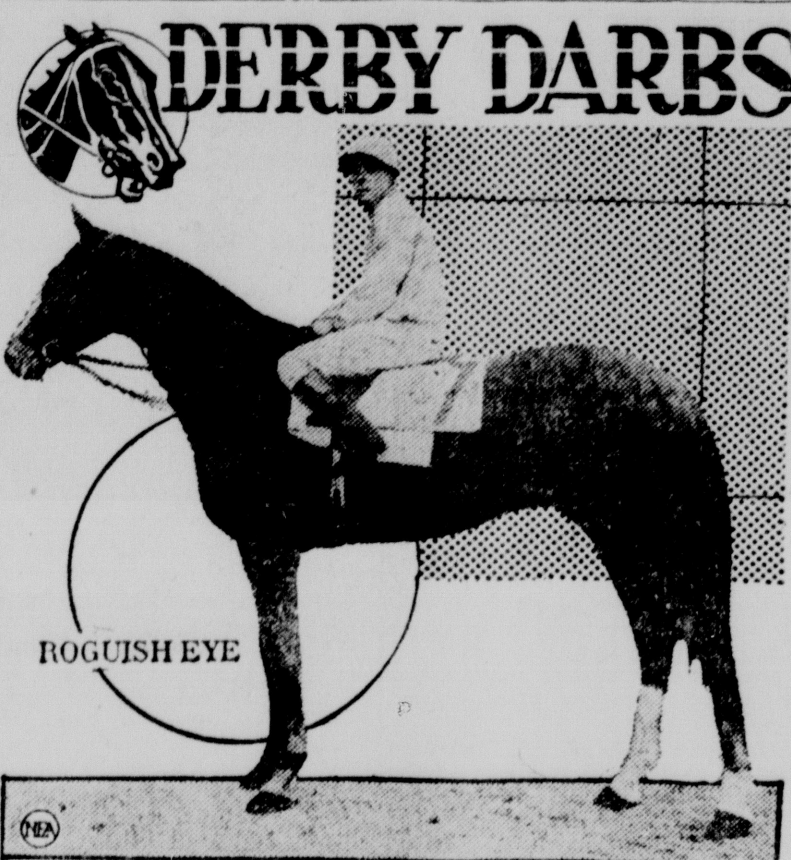

Chicago —(UP)—Successful in their initial bouts in Chicago, Honey Boy Finnegan, Boston junior lightweight, and Maxie Rosenbloom, New York light heavyweight, looked forward today to appearing on some of the major Chicago boxing bills which Promoter Paddy Harmon of the Chicago Stadium, has planned for this summer.

Finnegan won his way into the hearts of Chicago fight fans by easily defeating Eddie Anderson, local favorite, in a ten round bout. Rosenbloom stepped to the front in the middle west by defeating Charley Berlinger, Canada, in ten rounds. Finnegan won all the way. He used a straight left hand to keep Anderson away from him and a right cross as his damaging punch.

Rosenbloom beat Belanger on his boxing ability.
In the other matches Tommy Freeman, Cleveland, and Andy Divido, New York, welterweights, fought a ten round draw; Haakon Hanson, Chicago middleweight won from Vincent Forgiore, Philadelphia, ten rounds decision and Oscar Battiste, Chicago light heavyweight lost to Tom Jones, Chicago, four rounds decision.

The show drew 12,000 fans who paid approximately $40,000.

BERLINGER AND NURMI FEATURE PENNA. CARNIVAL

Middle-Age and Youth Share Honors First Day of Relays

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

Philadelphia, April 27—(AP)—The Pennsylvania relay carnival closing its dizzy whirl of competition today for some 3000 athletes, has developed one of the strangest of contrasts involving youth and age.

Youth usually holds complete sway in this meet, but this year a middle-aged foot-racer, still a marvelous piece of running machinery although the razor-edge of speed seems unmistakably gone, shares the spotlight with a brawny youth destined perhaps to be one of America's greatest all-around performers.

Paavo Nurmi, now around 33, is only a shadow of the peerless Paavo of 1924-25. Barney Berlinger, just come of voting age, has the brawny ability to break records all day long. Nurmi broke the American outdoor two-mile record, but his time of 9:15.6, clipping 2.5 seconds from the 17-year-old mark of a Cornell Collegian, Tel Berna, was not so startling when it is realized that Paavo, at the height of his form in 1925, raced this distance in 8:58.3 on an indoor track.

Today Nurmi was billed for an assault on the three-mile record, for which he holds himself the world mark of 14:11.5.

Berlinger, Pennsylvania sophomore, turned in one of the best performances of his career yesterday when he won the intercollegiate decathlon championship for the first time, beating his Oklahoma rival, Tom Churchill, by 135 points, and breaking the relay carnival record. Berlinger, in spite of a lack of speed for the track events, performed brilliantly enough in the field to win three events, the first place in another, and pile up a total of 729.987 points. This bumped off the former record of 736.575 points, made by Vernon Kennedy of Missouri in 1927.

Churchill, who won the Kansas decathlon a week ago, and surpassed Berlinger in the Olympic competition last summer, finished second with 7163.928 points. The Oklahoma giant captured only one event, the discus, but gave Berlinger a battle all the way.

Most of the big college relay championships are on the card today.

TWELFTH INNING RALLY

Calcutta, India—The yearly game of survival of the fittest, played in this country between men and tigers, wound up in the twelfth inning with the human race leading the animals by 35 units. Tigers last year accounted for the death of 1033 men and tiger hunters bagged 1068 of the pretty "kitties."

The Death's Head moth, now very rare, emits squeaks almost as loud as a mouse.

LAUGHS from the DIAMOND

BY BILLY EVANS

Mickey Cochrane, voted the most valuable American League player in 1928, is the type player sought by every league manager. He is perhaps the most aggressive backstop in baseball. The word "quit" isn't in his vocabulary. He is highly regarded by every American League umpire. They know that any time Mickey questions a decision, he feels he has a kick coming.

When Cochrane starts an argument it is difficult for the umpire to get the better of the verbal tilt. Umpires believe it is always well to shun a battle of wits with Cochrane if it can be done without losing control of the situation.

Like a great many players, Cochrane indulges in a chew of tobacco during the progress of a game but of the field never uses it.

If you would ask Cochrane what incident of his career stands out as the most humorous, I am sure he would tell you that Umpire Dick Nallin silenced his batteries without so much as a word when Cochrane once rushed at him, intent on making a strenuous protest over a base decision that he felt should have favored the Athletics instead of going against them.

It was in the eighth inning of a nip and tuck game between New York and Philadelphia that Umpire Nallin resorted to his deaf-and-dumb methods of silencing Cochrane. With two on and two out, Cochrane hit a ball to deep short on which Koenig made a great stop and an equally great throw. According to Nallin, the throw beat Cochrane by a hair-line margin. He ruled him out, beating the side and erasing the two runs that would have been recorded had Cochrane received the verdict.

As Cochrane turned first and heard the shout of "Out," he advanced in the direction of Nallin, standing back of the pitcher, at top speed, ready to give vent to his feelings of great disgust.

Dick Nallin is one umpire who is seldom caught napping. He realized if Cochrane ever reached him he would have trouble on his hands. Reaching into his back pocket he pulled out a package of a well-known brand of tobacco much used by ball players. With Cochrane still 15 or 20 feet away, he held out the package in such a manner as to convey to the fans that Cochrane was racing madly in his direction to bum a chew.

The ruse worked perfectly. The quick-thinking Cochrane appreciated the gesture and, instead of stopping, he continued on his way to the bench without even offering a word of protest. Through pantomime, Nallin had nipped a protest that might have made a lot of trouble, since Cochrane is mighty popular in Philly. When he kicks, everybody agrees with him.

Big Ten Baseball On Quarter Final

Ten baseball championship race entered its quarter final stretch today with a four-game card featured by the skirmish between Wisconsin and Indiana at Bloomington.

Indiana has won three straight conference games to tie for first place with Michigan and Purdue. The Wisconsin team was to make its debut in the race today.

Iowa was at Northwestern, seeking its first conference victory of the season.

Purdue, victor in three games, had Chicago's twice defeated team for opposition today at Lafayette.

Illinois and Ohio State were to meet at Columbus, defeat for the Illinois would definitely shove them out of the race with three losses.

Michigan and Minnesota were the only members of the race without conference opposition today.

EMMERSON TO GO TO CAPITAL ON BEGGING TRIP

Governor to Seek the Aid of U. S. in Completing Waterway

BY HAROLD J. RIEFLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Springfield, Ill., April 26—(UP)—Governor Louis L. Emmerson is going begging tomorrow.

Convinced the lone hope of completing the Illinois Waterways rests with the federal government, the governor is going to Washington to solicit the aid of Uncle Sam.

The $20,000,000 voted by the state some years ago to build the waterway will fall between $3,800,000 and $5,000,000 short of the amount necessary to finish the work.

The $20,000,000 was raised through a constitutional amendment and another such amendment would be necessary to get the additional funds.

Constitutional amendments have been defeated with considerable regularity of recent years and the Governor feels a proposal for the necessary waterway funds might meet a similar fate.

The constitution prohibits the legislature from making the appropriation unless the voters approve it and the voters can approve it only through a constitutional amendment. Hence the state executive's trip to Washington.

In Case of Failure
If the federal government refuses to supply the necessary funds the Governor is expected to return to Springfield and call a conference with leading bankers, lawyers, agriculturalists, newspaper men, labor leaders, etc., with a view to securing united effort toward adoption of a constitutional amendment to make the money available.

If he is compelled to take this step, the Governor must postpone for another two years at least his hope of amending the revenue article of the constitution as the amendment can be submitted at an election and if the waterway amendment is placed before the people the revenue amendment must wait for another election.

The Governor is leaving for Washington Saturday afternoon presumably to confer with the Illinois delegation in the Congress relative to the waterway matter.

To See President
He will, however, pay his respects to President Hoover and it seems a foregone conclusion the national executive will have first hand information as to Illinois' waterway dilemma before the Governor leaves the White House.

Governor Emmerson will return to Springfield Tuesday to be on hand for the legislative sessions of the week. In his absence from the state Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling will act as Governor.

Appropriation matters continued to harass the Governor this week, the state's financial experts figure the state tax rate will raise only $83,000,000. Keeping the legislature from going beyond that figure requires constant watchfulness and leaders in both branches heard of it when the bills reported out of committees indicated the maximum possible to raise would be exceeded.

As a result of his watchfulness a large number of "pork barrel" measures are dying a slow death on the calendars of both branches and it seems certain they will be in that position when the legislature adjourns sine die.

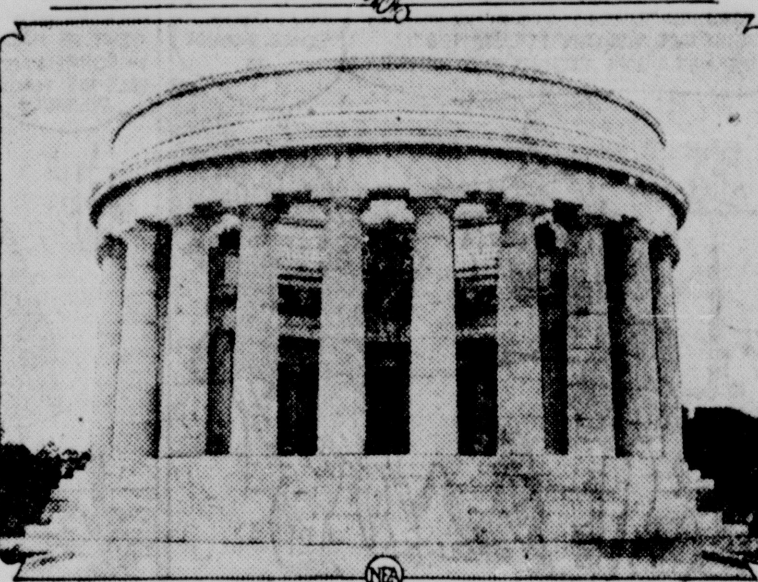

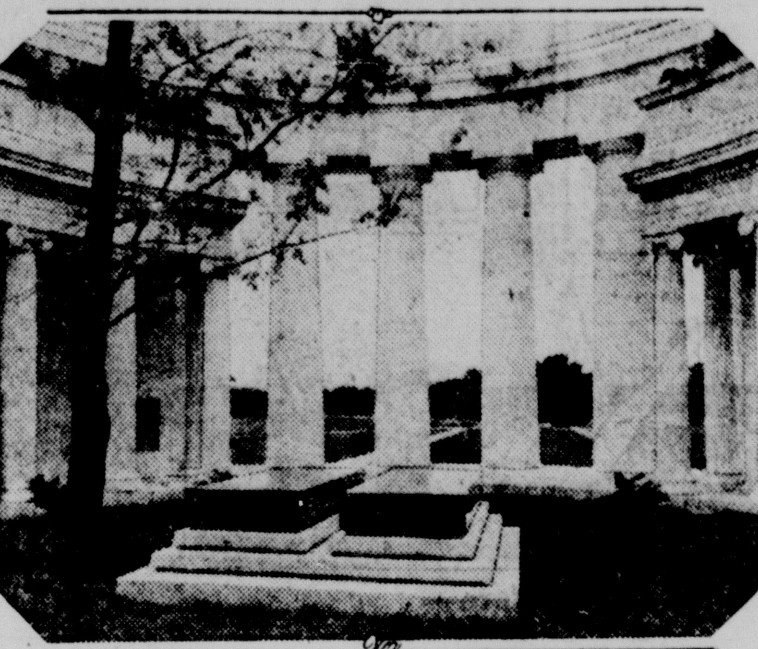

The decision of the state administration to spend $8,500,000 in the next two years for additional housing facilities at the state institutions has practically wiped out the excess which usually goes to the seekers after "pork."

City Quarantined

Lewistown, Ill., April 26—(UP)—A blanket quarantine affecting everyone under 18 years of age in this city, was in force here today to check what health authorities believe may develop into an epidemic of scarlet fever. All schools were closed by the Board of Education, working in unison with health authorities, and all youths affected by the ruling are barred from all public gatherings, amusements centers and similar places for one week. At that time, if the situation warrants, the quarantine order will be recalled.

GOLDEN AGE FOR AGRICULTURE IS SEEN BY EXPERT

Director of Scientific Activities Gives U. P. an Interview

BY CECIL OWEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 26—(UP)—A "golden age" for agriculture within the next decade was forecast today by Dr. A. F. Woods, Director of Scientific Activities for the U. S. Agriculture Department, in an interview with the United Press.

Predicting permanent solution of the "farm problem" within the next ten years, Dr. Woods visualized agriculture as now passing through a transition stage somewhat similar to that experienced by industry before the present day of large scale consolidation.

Science and the lawmaker have combined, Dr. Woods said, to relieve the farmer from the perils of plant pests, weather, surpluses and wasteful marketing methods. Prosperity will be brought to the farm, Dr. Woods believes, through three chief agencies:

Three Chief Agencies.
1. Further development of cooperative marketing corporations.
2. Improved methods of production.

Enactment of the administration farm relief bill, passed by the House late yesterday, will give "enormous impetus" to development of cooperative marketing agencies, Dr. Woods said. Such organizations now do an annual business of $2,500,000,000, but still wider growth is necessary if the benefits of cooperative marketing are to be shared by all farmers.

"More efficient methods of production go hand in hand with development of better distribution systems under the farmer's own control," he added. "We are changing over from growing a wide variety of scrub products to highly bred strains of crops for which there is always a demand."

"Improving business methods in handling farm products, development of the home market together with the natural increase in population during the next ten years will bring back the golden age in agriculture. Now is the time to invest in farms."

It was Wyatt's first offense, according to testimony at a hearing preceding the passing of sentence.

HOOVER WANTS STONE TO HEAD HIS COMMISSION

Associate Justice Sought to Survey Law Enforcement

BY JAMES L. WEST

Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, April 26—(AP)—President Hoover is understood to be seeking the services of Associate Justice Harlan Fiske Stone of the United States Supreme Court, as chairman of his national law enforcement commission.

Information in some quarters is that the former Attorney General is reluctant to retire from the highest court to undertake the task which the Chief Executive has announced will be entrusted to the commission—that of exhaustively studying the whole federal judicial and enforcement machinery and submitting recommendations for its reorganization.

Some friends of Justice Stone have been urging him to accept the appointment. They believe the work of the commission will be the most important of its kind in the history of the nation and that the recommendations made should constitute an enduring monument to its authors.

Cause of Delay
Efforts of the President to have Justice Stone form the arch around which the commission personnel will be built are believed to account in the main for the unexpected delay in announcing the members.

Justice Stone, who is the youngest member of the Supreme Court—he is 57 years old—long has been a close friend of Mr. Hoover; was his neighbor for years in the S Street residential section, and is a member of the "medicine ball cabinet."

It was while serving as dean of the Columbia University Law School that Justice Stone was selected by President Coolidge in April, 1924, as Attorney General to succeed Harry M. Daugherty, whose administration of the Department of Justice then was under investigation by a special Senate committee.

After serving in that office for less than a year, Mr. Stone was appointed to the Supreme Court by Mr. Coolidge on March 2, 1925, succeeding the late Justice Joseph McKenna.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

© 1929 By NEA Service, Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MILDRED LAWRENCE meets STEPHEN ARMITAGE when he reaches her for far from a thief. Their friendship grows until PAMELA JUDSON, daughter of her employer, tries to lure him away from her. HUCK CONNOR becomes infatuated with Pamela and she plays both men. Her brother, HAROLD, is in love with Mildred, who tries to keep him from knowing that his girl is a thief. When Stephen continues seeing Mildred, Pamela has her charged and arrested when she is trying to marry Harold for his money. Bitter at Mildred, Stephen permits Pamela to maneuver him into an engagement when she tells him that is the only way she can break with Huck.

Huck commands Harold to prevent Pamela's marriage under fear of exposure concerning a forged check. Harold says he can't force Pamela so Huck plans to dispose of her. He has one of his gang frame him for stealing a gun demonstration car, and the detective thinks him guilty when he shadows Stephen and finds him apparently giving a big party that night to announce his engagement to Pamela.

Harold confesses enough to Mildred to reveal that Stephen is a thief. Heartbroken and out of a job, she tries to think of some way to save him, but in vain for Stephen is arrested when a gun, roll of bills and the auto keys are found in his room.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIX

HAROLD came to Stephen as soon as he received that trouble-swamped young man's message.

He didn't need any words from Stephen to convince him that his future brother-in-law was innocent. The handwork of Huck Connor was plainly visible to him.

But he listened without comment while Stephen told about the incriminating evidence that had been found in his room. Stephen was too much taken up with the mystery to notice Harold's extreme nervousness, his evasive, shifting glances.

"That evidence was planted there," Stephen declared excitedly, stopping in the restricted pacing he had set up again as his agitation increased. "Someone was out to hang the theft of the car on me."

"Perhaps," Harold gulped, "they planned to throw suspicion on you so the fellow from the insurance company wouldn't look any farther."

Stephen regarded him with a new thought. "You don't seem to suspect," he said quietly. "Why?"

Harold started. "Why?" he repeated in conspicuous confusion; "why, it never occurred to me," he added lamely.

"I wonder if it will ever occur to Pamela," Stephen said, and there was doubt in his voice. "That's what I wanted to see you about, Harold. You've got to tell her that I'm . . . here. Tell her I want to see her."

Harold seemed to shrink. "You don't want me to ask Pam to come here—to a police station?" he asked incredulously.

Stephen stared down at him where he sat uneasily on the cot. "Why not?" he retorted, trying to speak in a matter-of-fact tone. "You know I'm going to marry her, don't you?" he went on without giving Harold time to answer. "I'm not a seemed unending. Couldn't get relief from anything, either as all the medicines I took might just as well have been water and then I was also suffering the worst stomach disorders. Cases all but shut off my breath and after meals a lump seemed to form under my heart and almost suffocated me. These spells were terrible and sometimes the folks would have to work over me for quite a while until I'd get better. After all this suffering, it is almost unbelievable what Gly-Cas has done in my case. Almost from the start it ended my stomach disorders and began to eat foods which I hadn't been able to eat at all before and then the Gly-Cas started its great action on my rheumatism. Each week the pain and misery of this affliction became less and less and finally every sign of the rheumatism left me. Limbs are useful and stiffness is all gone. I tell you, a person has only to look at me in my present well and normal condition to know that all I say about Gly-Cas and what it's done for me is the absolute truth.

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Sold Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Aschenbrenner Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills; Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

I'M ALONE CASE TO BE GIVEN TO TWO ARBITRATORS

U. S. and Canada Will Submit Sinking of Rum Runner

Washington, April 26—(AP)—The dispute between the United States and Canada over the sinking of the rum runner I'm Alone by the Coast Guard patrol boat Dexter is to be submitted to arbitration.

This action suggested by Secretary Stimson in his exchange of notes with the Canadian government through its Minister, Vincent Massey, will be taken under a clause of the 1924 rum smuggling treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

This clause provides that a dispute under the treaty shall be submitted first to two arbitrators, one nominated by each government, and that if they fail to agree, it shall be referred under the claims commission agreement of 1910, to three arbitrators, including one neutral.

The correspondence on the I'm Alone case, published this morning, disclosed that the Canadian government conceded that the schooner, which was of Canadian registry, "had unquestionably been engaged for a number of years, under various owners, in endeavoring to smuggle liquor into the United States," but raised three points under the 1924 treaty.

The I'm Alone, it held, was not within the search and seizure limit of "one hour's sailing distance" from the American coast when hailed nor at any time during the pursuit which ended with her sinking; that essential elements of the international doctrine of "hot pursuit" were lacking in the case, and that the sinking of the vessel was too severe a measure to effect American rights under the treaty.

The American position, set forth by Secretary Stimson, was that the I'm Alone was within one-hour's sailing distance of the shore when hailed; that continuous and hot pursuit took place, and that the sinking was justified.
